Executive Directive 09-03

Healthy and Sustainable Food for San Francisco
July 9, 2009

By virtue of the power and authority vested in me by Section 3.100 of the San Francisco Charter to provide administration and oversight of all departments and governmental units in the executive branch of the City and County of San Francisco, I do hereby issue this Executive Directive to become effective immediately:

1. The City declares its commitment to increasing the amount of healthy and sustainable food.

   Access to safe, nutritious, and culturally acceptable food is a basic human right and is essential to both human health and ecological sustainability. The City and County of San Francisco recognizes that hunger, food insecurity, and poor nutrition are pressing health issues that require immediate action. Further we recognize that sustainable agricultural ecosystems serve long-term economic prosperity and ability of future generations to be food self-sufficient. In our vision, sustainable food systems ensure nutritious food for all people, shorten the distance between food consumers and producers, protect workers health and welfare, minimize environment impacts, and strengthen connections between urban and rural communities. The long-term provision of sufficient nutritious, affordable, culturally appropriate, and delicious food for all San Franciscans requires the City to consider the food production, distribution, consumption and recycling system holistically and to take actions to preserve and promote the health of the food system. This includes setting a high standard for food quality and ensuring city funds are spent in a manner consistent with our social, environmental and economic values.

2. The following principles guide this Directive on Healthy and Sustainable Food:

   a. To ensure quality of life, as well as environmental and economic health in San Francisco, the food system must promote public health, environmental sustainability and social responsibility.

   b. Eliminating hunger and ensuring access to healthy and nutritious food for all residents, regardless of economic means, is a concern of all city departments. Investments should be allocated to ensure no San Franciscan goes hungry.

   c. San Francisco’s neighborhood food environments must allow residents the opportunity to make healthy food choices and reduce environmental causes of diet related illnesses.

   d. To reduce the environmental impacts associated with food production, distribution, consumption, and disposal, whenever possible, city resources will be used to purchase and promote regionally produced and sustainably certified food.
e. Food production and horticulture education will be encouraged within the City and, to the extent feasible, on City owned land, through urban agriculture including community, backyard, rooftop, and school gardens; edible landscaping, and agricultural incubator projects.

f. The City and County shall promote economic opportunities in the food sector that create green jobs and local food businesses.

g. The ability of the City and County to reduce the environmental impacts of the food system depends on the region’s fertile farmland. The City and County shall support policies that conserve the region’s prime agricultural land.

h. The City and County shall promote regional agriculture through increasing marketing opportunities for regionally grown agricultural products in San Francisco.

i. The City and County shall recycle all organic residuals, eliminate chemical use in agriculture and landscaping and use sustainable practices that enhance natural biological systems throughout the City.

j. The City and County shall promote innovative programs that educate food system stakeholders and the general public on the value of healthy food, and an equitable and sustainable food system.

k. The City and County shall advocate for federal and state policies that support the principles of this Food Policy.
